The essence of sustainable learning from grandpa
Remains in my mind for ever like a fresh green straw
It makes sense to recall the guidance received at young age
And his passion for sharing stories like a sage on stage

Season of an extreme dry and hot summer
An elaborate narrative of my grandfather
It excites me to great emotional heights
And it was the collection of age-old story thoughts

They stretched in an elastic manner within the limit
The flow of wisdom in the true teaching spirit
Continuous as the wonderful green landscape in sight
What intellectual wealth the story had brought

I wandered lonely in sky as moon
And I gazed with that inward mood
I enjoyed the short moral capsule
With tears of thoughtful gratitude

An unsung hero perish leaving behind his footprints
That nourish my mind with beautiful moral thoughts
The flashback in inner layers creates the mood
From which the life revolves in the realms of good

Learning ecosystem sustained my enthusiasm
Pointers triggered my subconscious nervous system
Gradual decoding of the complete story sequence
That made me hanging out to have a purpose to practice

Let the creative juices flow that catalyse the mood uplift
Through the message of immense love and comfort
It was wonderful to recall the details of story in a way
With a seasonal intensity that blows the brain fog away.
