Ego

Dhanesh Sebastian
Assistant Professor,
MES College Marampally, Aluva.

Days ago, I googled,
‘the teacher of teachers’. I marvelled
How entangled and intrigued? Google thought and thought
Pat came the reply, ‘I am’.

I wondered, giggled and forwarded,
As I couldn’t hide my laughter.
Is it EGO? The opinion on one’s own self?
‘The sense of self-importance’ was the reply.

I am the art of quintet artists-
The sight- visible under the eye of heaven.
The smell- the aroma that cannot be concealed.
The taste- the essence of rasa and the voice that sounds vox populi
The touch- of Midas or the Mighty
The sound- even the murmur of a thousand
Google, that’s how I am named.

Biographical Details:

Mr. Dhanesh Sebastian is an Assistant Professor in MES College Marampally, Aluva, Kerala. He is also a Master Trainer of ASAP (Additional Skill Acquisition Programme, Govt. of Kerala) and a Senior HR cum Corporate Trainer. As a graduate, he won a prize in a national level essay writing competition titled-"Students' response towards climate change” organized by Xavier Board of Higher Education in India (XBHEI). He is actively involved in philanthropy that he serves as one of the programme officers of YRCS
(Youth Red Cross Society) in the college. He is a poet, writer and a critic and his papers have been published in international journals.