Season of Spring 2020

Rupanshi Pruthi
Kurukshetra University,
Haryana & NMIMS Mumbai (India)

Some leaves are dancing on the trees

While some are falling on the ground,

Yellow and dry, making a chirping sound,

When walked down by a stranger.

This is the beauty of Nature,

She seems to be happy and enjoying.

Welcoming the Season of Spring

Renewing, Revitalising & Replenishing itself,

As it got the chance to Relive.

But,

Why the Rain is coming,

Hailstones are falling.

There is no season,

Neither any weather forecasts.

....Ohhh! The People are saying it as the Corona effect.

Corona who took the whole world into its Havoc.

As People are dying everywhere.

But,

www.the-criterion.com

Animals, mammals, birds, plants, air and water are Reliving.

Nature is Reborning itself.

Some saying it as the Revenge of Nature against Mankind.

Some saying, the Anger of God.

And Some, the End of this beautiful World.

So, What is it?

It is the Season of Spring coming.

About the Poem:

Author in this poem depicts the changes that are taking place in the Nature, some usual and some unusual. During these tough times, when the whole world is facing corona pandemic and people under quarantine are panic and stressed, our only Hope lies with the beauty of Nature. Here the author has also viewed Nature as a Warrior who has come forward for the protection of those Unspoken & Unheard Voices that of plants, animals, air & water whom the mankind has destructed for their own greed and advancement. Once again the nature has come to make humans realize that this planet not only belongs to them. It is home to millions of living species. Along with it she talks about the beauty of spring season 2020 coming forward, and strongly believes that this spring will bring new hopes in everyone's lives.
