A bent curve with a dot
Holds the entire universe
Stimulates learning, explores history
A child starts questioning. It is
A mark of awareness that obliterates ignorance
A question is a route to invention
Newton questioned the fall of apple
Theory of gravitation propounded
Einstein, Edison, Graham Bell, Alfred Nobel...
By the virtue of their questioning skill
Enlightened the world
A question is a fountainhead of research
That drives to depths and leads to development
Today's advancement in science and technology
Is the answer to manifold questions which Sparked off in the brains of erudite and intellectuals
A question is fear- represented by authority
Regulates duty and responsibility of the employed
A question is either a sense of encouragement or discouragement
Students are fed up with questions in exams, interviews....
They burn the midnight oil to answer the questions
Too many questions disturb family life, but Interrogation unveils mystery behind crime
In the days of yore, to search answers to questions was laborious
But today's search engines facilitate prompt answers at the mouse click
Nature too poses many questions in form of natural calamities
It has its own answer

It is up to man to realize and preserve it
A question promotes self- analysis
If every man binds to the questions of his conscience
No crime and evil would take place
Earth would become an abode of peace.
