Yesterday was a Labourer and Today is a Preacher Which is worthwhile?

G.H. Abeyweera

Head/ Department of Management Sciences
UvaWellassa University of Sri Lanka
Passara Road, Badulla
Sri Lanka

Sometimes back he was a labourer,
Carrying green leaves to a factory
Two miles exactly away from his home
To earn his family's daily living.

Continued to do it for several years,
Until he was selected to a varsity
Where he opted to study the language of the Whiteman
Under the supervision of a Black Englishman
Renowned and an erudite,
Second to none.

He continued to work hard and even much harder
Till he too becomes a renowned at the least locally,
And he could succeed at managing the language
Of the Whiteman at the least,
Though not par with his Black Englishman,

The idol of this poor yet persistent learner.

Today he show his happy tears

For he was one of the preachers

Or a Guest Speaker

At the District Plantation Association,

Where all the affluent planters gathered

For their first general assembly

For 2015

The Guest Speaker was the One,

Who once was a labourer

To carry out green leaves to a factory,

Two miles exactly away from his home.

This speaker, who was once a labourer,

Now is a Preacher, not just a Preacher,

But a senior preacher,

Who runs a Department that does not come

Under his scope of disciplines.

To come through his mill of life,

His teacher, the Black Englishman

Principled and forthright who was second to none

Was often behind this poor laborer

And this laborer, now being a preacher.

Hats off to his guru for all what he gave

The perseverance and commitment

Not just to be a preacher but to be a recognized

Preacher.

Yesterday was a ladder,

For him to climb, and reach the pinnacle

Of his caliber and to be a Preacher in today's world.
