Ability of the Disabled

T. SreeLatha

Associate Professor
Training and Placement Cell,
NRI Institute of Technology, Agiripalli.

Disability is not a sin; rather a challenge gifted by God

To the most forbearing and the rarest few; totally trusted by Him

The deep rooted solemn zeal is beyond any hurdle

The unyielding steadfast hope is ahead of all constraints

No misfortune can ever shadow a mountainous resolution

No destiny can control and command the ceaseless struggle

The intuitive shrewd perception makes life evidently pragmatic

Corruption and dissipation are outside the peripheries of occurrence

Escorted always by the lofty self reliance and ever optimistic poise

The Challenged soar high and rule the sky with inherent faith and fervor.

Adversities confronted warn and preach many a sermon

At times feet form firm fists and hold the heart careful and tight

Sturdy arms walk steady and raise the humble head high with pride

Study of rise and fall in life bequeaths much courage and confidence

Each step pacing towards the goal minimizes scores of miles

Hesitation is always anonymous and failure a dear companion

But a confident and assured smile conquers the loathsome grief

The heavenly and blissful soul finds an army in itself to combat life.

The sweat shedding endeavors venture to beckon and fix the destination.
Hence the disabled are always able while a few able are almost disabled.
