Last Dance (Climate Tears)

Gregg Dotoli

the slow-burn endures as money-green carbon skeptics play a ravaging death dance acidic seas sway swinging to que sera, sera wind blasted trees stoop like ballerinas to gusting cracking notes Swaying to que sera, sera polar caps melting spawning new dirges and puzzling eerie weather rainbows and lightning form natural stages for the extant to extinct finale Biota in decline and decay Fragile and frail mumbles que sera, sera we're not here to stay
