Togetherness: To get there & To gather

Rajalekshmi G R
Faculty of English
St.Xavier's College, Trivandrum, Kerala

Time from immemorial, tests the survival skills of beings
playing the "most wiredest" tricks possible.
'Toughest times made the fittest ones'.
Time's weapons, strange and sharp stood against every living hopes and happiness.
Struggling and surpassing, the human race traveled so far.

Learnt to fight alone,
Looked around for more,
To-get-there and to-gather became together.

Togetherness, the century's word
where you, me and everyone stay apart holding each other with sanitized hands.
Apparently witnessing the 'evolution behavioural',
embracing 'distancing' without embarrassing
differential, distinguishing demands.

Armoured in masks, we breathe
Seeing the smiling lines around the eyes.
The resilient hands in gloves,
glowed up from the bleakest blows.
The infectious compassion turned virulences to vitalities.

Quarantine was quoted thereupon
'the quietest of conquests', unassisted by vaccines.
Voices of discoveries filled voids of experiments.
Breathe in the air of togetherness!

Breathe out the storms of fellowships!
Clusters' siren everywhere, To break all the chains!

To get there,
To gather,
when the 'Crown' falls.
